

2017/18 Investment Team Internship

Appian Capital Advisory is the investment advisor to the Appian Natural Resources Fund ("Appian"), a leading private equity vehicle which invests in metals and mining companies, assets and management teams across selected geographies and commodities.

Headquartered in London with a global presence, Appian's team comprises metals and mining industry technical experts who work alongside an Investment Team, also drawn from within industry.

We are currently inviting final year students to apply for our inaugural Investment Team Internship.

The Internship is suited to high achieving candidates who are passionate about metals and mining, and are looking to work within the industry from a commercial and financial perspective.

The Internship will commence following graduation in November 2017. The successful candidate will work within our Investment Team in London and participate in additional training in commerce and finance for a period of six months.

Upon completion of the Internship, Appian may offer a full time position within its global operations.

Appian will assist the successful candidate with visa requirements and provide flights, accommodation and an allowance throughout the Internship.

Eligibility & Application Process

The Internship is open to final year students majoring in Mining Engineering and / or Metallurgy, with availability to live and work full time in London from November 2017 through to April 2018, and potentially commence full time employment thereafter.

Applicants must provide a CV and a covering letter outlining your track record of achievement, your passion for metals and mining and interest in working within the industry from a commercial and financial perspective.

Applications can be emailed to Aaron Kidd prior to 4pm AWST Friday September 8th 2017. Shortlisted candidates will be contacted for interviews in the weeks following before the Internship is expected to be awarded in early September.
